Company Order.

ARMORY OF THE ANCIENT AND HONORABLE ARTILLERY COMPANY.

BOSTON, May 27, 1870.

SIR :—

You being a member of the Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company are hereby ordered to appear at the Armory, Faneuil Hall, at 7½ o'clock, A. M., on MONDAY, JUNE 6, next, in Uniform complete, to celebrate the Two Hundred and Thirty-Second Anniversary of the Corps.

Artillerists will appear in Dark Clothes, Chapeau, and White Gloves.

To afford time for all the services of the day, early and prompt movements will be necessary.

The Company will leave the Armory at 10 o'clock precisely, and receive the Governor and invited guests at the State House, attend the exercises at the Old South Church, march to Faneuil Hall, be seated at the table at 1 o'clock, P. M., and leave at 4½ o'clock for the Common, where the Governor will take his Chair at 5 o'clock.

It is to be hoped that every member will make it his duty to be present at this Anniversary.

By Order of the Commander.

GEO. H. ALLEN, CLERK.

---

P. S. — The assessment has been fixed at ten dollars, except for Honorary Members and those residing over ten miles from the city, in which cases it has been levied at eight dollars.

Every member of the Company is required to pay the Anniversary assessment.

Members are reminded that it will make the duty of the clerk less laborious if they can make it convenient to secure their tickets to the Dinner in advance ; and for this purpose, the Armory will be open on Friday and Saturday previous to the parade, from 2 to 7, P. M.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

ARMORY A. & H. A. CO.,
BOSTON, June 3, 1870.

The Commander requests the members in entering Faneuil Hall for the dinner to avoid all haste, as the Company is now so large, that without caution on the part of the members confusion may easily arise in the limited passageway.

The seats of the guests, who by invitation will honor us with their presence, will be designated by cards bearing their names, and their seats should be carefully reserved for them.

The Commander wishes to impress upon each and every member the duty he owes to the good reputation of the Corps, to refrain from all conversation during the speeches of the gentlemen who are invited to address the Company and to pay attention to their remarks, for otherwise it is impossible for the speakers to make themselves heard in so large a hall. There will be ample time for conversation during the performance of music by the band. The Commander trusts that every member will not only realize and recognize, but will do his best to observe the proprieties of the occasion and that no member will so far forget his manhood as by any intemperate act to reflect dishonor upon the Corps. It should be the earnest desire of every member to render our festival eminently worthy the high character of our Honorable Corps.

Commander.

COMPOSED BY DR. JOHN P. ORDWAY.

Guide us all this day Oh, Father ;
In the paths of joy and love,
Lift our thoughts with truthful pleasure
To the home of rest above.
Brothers who have gone before us
Sleep in peace and rest from pain,
We'll not mourn because they've left us,
For our loss is but their gain.

Sweet the hours we've passed together,
Fond remembrance for this day,
That our hearts still beat with pleasure
For old friends who've passed away.
Then with hearts and hands united,
We will echo forth the strain,
For those dear ones who have left us,
That our loss may be their gain.

ODE.

COMPOSED BY DR. JOHN P. ORDWAY.

Music by Howard M. Dow.

Once more we meet as soldiers true,
The bond of union o'er us ;
With heart and hand we strike anew,
For Liberty to shield us,

This is the day and this the hour,
When brothers meet in kindness ;
For no foe shall strike,
From the freemans' tower
The Flag that still shines in brightness.

That peace may reign each loyal heart
Prays for its folds to compass ; —
Through hill and dale with playful art,
The joyful anthem round us.
In ancient times our ranks were lined,
With men who knew that glory,
Was to be brave — their hearts enshrined,
With us repeat the story :

This is the day and this the hour
When brothers meet in kindness
For no foe shall strike
From the freemans' tower
The Flag that still shines in brightness.

Then gather round with hearts profound
Almighty aid imploring —
Time well each voice with sweetest sound
Till all above seem soaring,

This is the day and this the hour
When brothers meet in kindness
For no foe shall strike
From the freemans' tower
The Flag that still shines in brightness.

REPORT

OF THE

COMMITTEE ON EXPEDIENCY OF VISITING LONDON, ENG.

The Committee appointed, October, 1871, to take into consideration the expediency of the Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company making a visit to London, England, deem it desirable to report progress, and to ask such further instruction as the Company may be pleased to give.

Your Committee have caused an un-official correspondence to be opened with gentlemen directly and indirectly connected with the Honorable Artillery Company of London, from which our Company is a lineal descendant. The responses so far received are highly satisfactory and encouraging, showing that great interest is taken on the other side of the water, in our proposition; and they give assurance that we should receive a cordial welcome, commensurate with the strong interest felt by the parent company in our organization, and in the country we shall represent.

Having received so much encouragement, your Committee are of the opinion that the proposed excursion is expedient. They have not, however, arrived at this conclusion, without duly weighing all matters which have a bearing upon the practicability of the undertaking. Through their sub-committees, appointed to make the necessary inquiries in regard to details, they have obtained such full information that the estimates included in the basis of a plan which they now propose may be relied upon as accurate, and as making ample allowance for contingencies.

It is to be understood that the Committee expect the participation of such a number of the present members of the Company, — say two hundred, — as to properly represent the Company. It would scarcely be desirable to make the visit under any other circumstances.

The basis of a plan which the Committee propose is as follows :—

That the proposed visit shall take place about June, 1873, under such rules and regulations as may be hereafter prepared, which shall form a bond of agreement, to be signed by each member who participates.

That a first-class passage be provided out and home, in a steamer of one of the best lines from Boston.

That every member be fully provided with the new uniform to be adopted by the Company, including over-coat, dress-cap, fatigue-cap, and extra trowsers, all to be his own property.

The length of time for the whole trip to be six weeks, of which about twenty-four days will be occupied on the passages, leaving eighteen days to be spent in London or elsewhere.

Each member's travelling and hotel expenses to be paid, except such as are incurred independently of the Company.

A full and efficient military band to accompany the party; also a full corps of body-servants.

It is expected that the Adjutant General of the Commonwealth will issue an order to provide the Company with a full and complete Stand of Arms, of the latest and most approved pattern.

That each member joining the expedition be assessed four hundred dollars.

The sum of four hundred dollars is to be the entire amount each man will be obliged to pay for his outfit of uniform and equipments, and for his expenses while absent.

Your Committee present this plan for your consideration, with the full belief that it is for the best interest of the Company that the proposed excursion should be made. They feel confident that it will be very enjoyable, and as it is the first instance of a military association, as ours may be called (rather than a company, or battalion), undertaking to cross the Atlantic and visit the Old World, they trust that the honor of first accomplishing the task may be enjoyed by the Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company.

Respectfully submitted,
For the Committee,
A. A. FOLSOM, Chairman.

ARMORY A. & H. A. CO.,

BOSTON, May 9th, 1872.

HEADQUARTERS A. & H. A. CO.,

BOSTON, May 10, 1872.

Members of the Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company are hereby notified that the regular meetings of the Company, for business and drill, prior to the celebration of the 243d Anniversary, will be held at the Armory, Faneuil Hall, on MONDAY evenings, the 16th, 23d and 30th insts., at 8 o'clock.

Per order of the Commander.

GEO. H. ALLEN,

Clerk A. & H. A. Co.

P. S. Attention is particularly called at this time to Article IV. of the Rules and Regulations of the Company.

OFFICERS.

SECT. 1. The commissioned officers of the Company shall be a Captain, First Lieutenant, Second Lieutenant, and Adjutant, all of whom shall be chosen by ballot on the day of the Anniversary Parade.

At the first regular meeting, in the month of May, the Company shall go into Committee of the Whole, to nominate commissioned officers: and for this purpose nominating lists shall be opened, and remain open until at least three persons are named for each office, commencing with the Captain. The Clerk of the Company shall cause to be prepared printed lists of such nomination and at the next regular meeting the Company shall consider the nominations and express its judgment thereon by ballot, — the person having a majority of votes for any office to be considered as the regular candidate of the Company.

SECT. 2. The number of non-commissioned officers of the Company shall be proportioned to the number of its active members, and shall be fixed annually, previous to the election of officers; provided that in no case shall the number be less than is required by law for a company of Infantry.

SECT. 3. At the regular meeting of the Company, at which commissioned officers are nominated, there shall be chosen a committee of seven, whose duty it shall be to present in print, at the next regular meeting of the Company, two lists of candidates for sergeants, — one list to be candidates for sergeants of Infantry, and one to be candidates for sergeants of Artillery. Each list shall contain the names of at least twice as many candidates as the number required to be chosen. The sergeants of Infantry shall be first balloted for, and the required number having the highest number of ballots shall be the nominees; and the sergeants of Artillery shall then be nominated in like manner.

Boston, Dec. 20. 1872

My dear Sir,

The great fire so prostrated us all, for the moment, that the Records of the Laying of the Corner Stone have not yet been made up and printed, as contemplated. The invaluable service of the Ancient & Honorable Artillery Co. on the occasion renders it proper that that body should show foremost in the Publication, to be given to posterity, of the doings of that day, and the Association will be glad to coöperate with the Committee of your Company, to accomplish that end. It is proposed to publish the whole doings and speeches on that occasion, in such form as to be added to the volume already begun. These books, beside private distribution, are intended for the Public Libraries of the Country.

I shall be glad to hear in what manner the Association can aid you in producing the Publication at a very early day.

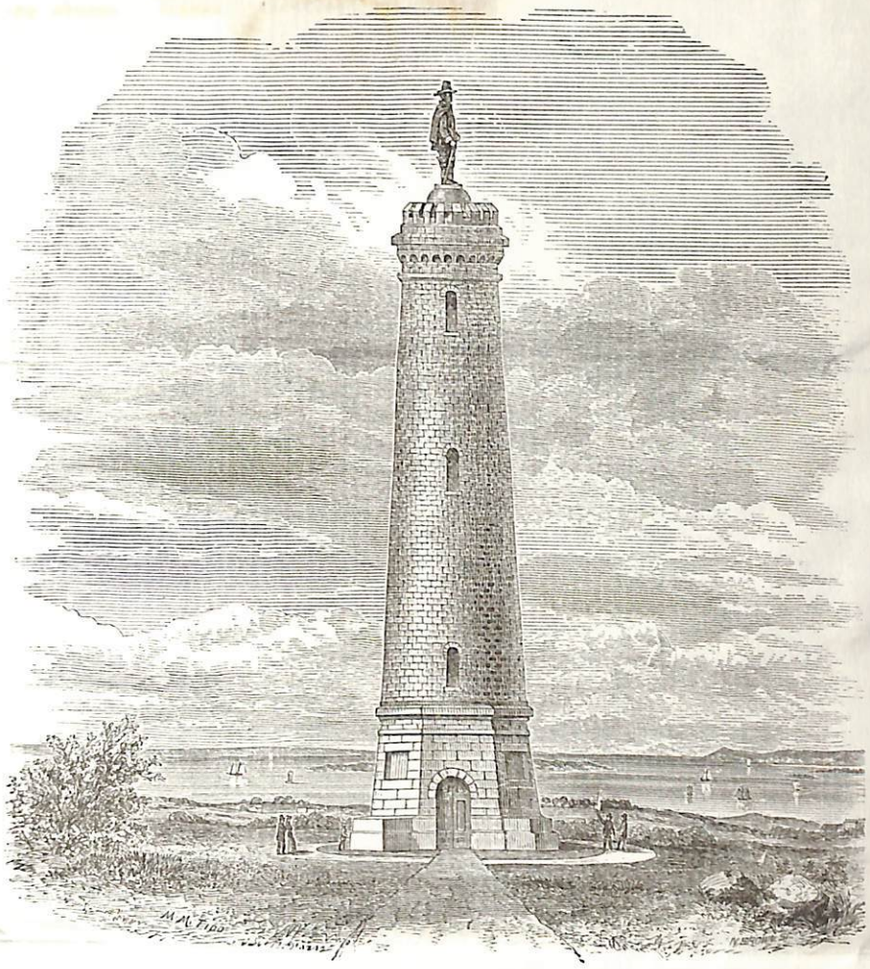

I am

Respectfully Yours

To Thee, O country, great and free,
With trusting hearts we cling;
Our voices tuned by joyous love,
Thy power and praises sing.
Upon thy mighty, faithful heart,
We lay our burden down;
Thou art the only friend who feels
Their weight without a frown.

For thee we daily work and strive,
To thee we give our love;
For thee with fervor deep we pray
To Him who dwells above.—
O God! preserve our father-land,
Let peace its ruler be,
And let her happy kingdom stretch

LEXINGTON. — 1775.

No maddening thirst for blood had they,
No battle-joy was theirs who set
Against the alien bayonet
Their homespun breasts in that old day.

Their feet had trodden peaceful ways,
They loved not strife, they dreaded pain;
They saw not, what to us is plain,
That God would make man's wrath his praise.

No seers were they, but simple men:
Its vast results the future hid;
The meaning of the work they did
Was strange and dark and doubtful then.

Swift as the summons came they left
The plough, mid-furrow standing still,
The half-ground corn-grist in the mill,
The spade in earth, the axe in cleft.

They went where duty seemed to call;
They scarcely asked the reason why:
They only knew they could but die,
And death was not the worst of all.

Of man for man the sacrifice,
Unstained by blood, save theirs, they gave.
The flowers that blossomed from their grave
Have sown themselves beneath all skies.

Their death-shot shook the feudal tower,
And shattered slavery's chain as well:
On the sky's dome, as on a bell,
Its echo struck the world's great hour.

That fateful echo is not dumb:
The nations, listening to its sound,
Wait, from a century's vantage-ground,
The holier triumphs yet to come,—

The bridal time of Law and Love,
The gladness of the world's release,
When, war-sick, at the feet of Peace,
The hawk shall nestle with the dove, —

The golden age of brotherhood,
Unknown to other rivalries
Than of the kind humanities,
And gracious interchange of good,

When closer strand shall lean to strand,
Till meet, beneath saluting flags,
The eagle of our mountain-crags,
The lion of our Mother-land.

APRIL 19th, 1875.

ONE hundred years the world hath seen,
Since, bristling on these meadows green,
The British foeman mocked our sires,
New armed beside their household fires.

The troops were hastening from the town
To hold the country for the Crown;
But through the land the ready thrill
Of patriot hearts ran swifter still.

Our Fathers met at break of dawn.
From many a peaceful haunt they come;
From homely task and rustic care,
Marshalled by faith, upheld by prayer.

The winter's wheat was in the ground,
Waiting the April zephyr's sound;
But other growth these fields should bear
When War's wild summons rent the air.

Here flowed the sacrificial blood,
Hence sprang the bond of Brotherhood ;
Here rose resolved for good or ill,
The Nation's majesty of will.

Oh Thou who Victor dost remain
Above the slayer and the slain,
Not ill we deem that in Thy might,
That day, our fathers held their right.

They knew not that their ransomed land
To free the vassal'd Earth should stand ;
That Thou, through all their toil and pain,
A home of nations didst ordain.

Upon this field of Lexington
We hail the mighty conquest won,
Invoking here Thy mightier name
To keep our heritage from shame.

May peaceful generations turn
To where these ancient glories burn ;
And not a lesson of that time
Fade from men's thoughts through wrong and crime.

Beside the hearth let freemen still
Keep their integrity of will,
And meet the treason of the hour
With mind resolved and steadfast power.

But not in arms be our defence ;
Give us the strength of innocence,
The will to work, the heart to dare
For Truth's great battle, everywhere.

So may ancestral conquests live
In what we have and what we give ;
And the great boons we hold from Thee
Turn to enrich humanity.

CIRCULAR.

ARMORY A. & H. A. Co.,
BOSTON, June 10, 1875.

The officers of the Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company ask the attention of its members to the necessity of an immediate completion of its arrangements for the Centennial Celebration of the Battle of Bunker Hill. It is one of the most important anniversaries of the century, and an occasion of signal interest to our ancient and honored company Its members shared the perils and honors of that day, as they did the contests of nearly a century and a half that preceded it. It is necessary that we should honor with full ranks the day now dedicated by the general consent of our countrymen to the memories that cluster about that consecrated spot. We cannot with honor neglect this duty. Massachusetts might as well be absent from the column. The most distinguished veteran corps of other cities and states will be present in full force. The column of veterans will probably number two thousand men It will call for a vigorous effort on our part to maintain the position we have so long held, in comparison with these more recent, yet venerable military organizations. It is therefore requested that prompt notice of the numbers to be present may be given to the Clerk of the Company, who will attend at the Armory in Faneuil Hall, Friday and Saturday, the 11th and 12th instants, from 2 until 5 o'clock, P. M., to receive this information.

Notice of the time and place of the formation of the line on the morning of the 17th June will be given in the public journals at the earliest moment possible. Every preparation will be made by vigilant and active committees for the entertainment and comfort of the corps. The labors of the day will be made as light as possible, and all inordinate and excessive fatigue duty avoided. The Germania Band will assist at the celebration, and a grand union banquet be provided for all the veteran troops. The cordial co-operation of the Company in these arrangements is earnestly solicited.

Signed,

N. P. BANKS,
Gen. Commanding A. & H. A. Co.

BOSTON, Jan. 25, 1876.

DEAR SIR, —

At a meeting of the Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company, held on the 17th inst., it was voted to make an excursion to Philadelphia in June next, provided one hundred and fifty members shall agree to take part therein. The proposition is to leave Boston on the afternoon of the 14th day of June, by rail for Providence, and there take Steamer for Philadelphia; leaving Philadelphia on our return on the 18th day of June, and arriving home early on the 20th. The Steamer will be the Hotel and Headquarters of the Company from the time of embarkation until the return. The Steamer which it is proposed to hire, "The Stonington" (or a sister ship of the same line), is well known as one of the most comfortable and staunch boats on the Sound, and the trip cannot fail to be a pleasant one.

In no event will the assessment exceed $45.00. Should you think favorably of the proposition, you will please sign and return the accompanying document.

As the details of the excursion will necessarily take considerable time to complete, the Committee respectfully solicit an immediate answer.

For the Committee,

DEXTER H. FOLLETT,
Chairman

BOSTON, Jany 26th 1876.

Intending to participate in the excursion of the Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company to Philadelphia, in June next, I hereby agree to pay such assessment as may be levied for the purpose, not to exceed $45.00 (forty-five dollars). It is hereby understood and agreed that the assessment thus levied shall accrue to the benefit of the Company whether the undersigned shall parade or not.

☞ Sign full name and P. O. address.

ARMORY A. & H. A. CO.

BOSTON, Feb 7, 1876.

DEAR SIR, —

The circular recently issued by this Committee has failed to elicit responses from members of the Company in sufficient numbers to enable them to arrive at any definite conclusion regarding the wishes of the members as to the proposed excursion of the corps to Philadelphia on the 17th of June next, about one half of the replies being favorable, and the number received very limited.

To assist us in discharging our duty, under the vote of the Company, Jan. 17, we repeat the question (to those who have not already responded), Will you agree to pay such an assessment as may be levied, not to exceed forty-five (45) dollars, towards defraying the expenses of said excursion, provided one hundred and fifty members respond YES, you having the right to transfer your ticket to any member of the corps, provided you wish to do so, instead of parading yourself?

If you answer YES, please sign the blank on previous notice and return to the Chairman of the Committee; if NO, or DOUBTFUL, please answer accordingly, and thereby enable us to complete the canvass of the Company in time to report at a meeting to be held February 28.

The time between the next meeting of the Company and the date of the contemplated excursion is none too long to make arrangements for a trip of the magnitude intended and secure such comforts in transportation and living as are desired by the Ancients on all excursions.

Therefore it depends entirely upon your answers whether the oldest military organization in the United States shall visit the home of the Declaration of Independence on the centennial year of our national existence, and thereby add a bright page to the history of our ancient corps, or remain passive and allow organizations formed for that especial purpose to eclipse our record of two hundred and thirty-eight years.

Any information relating to the excursion will be cheerfully given by either of the Committee.

Comrades, hark! the air about us,
Empty as it all appears,
Thrills and pulses with the echoes
Of the long-departed years.
There are footsteps all around us;
Long the ancient drum beat rolls;
Voices call from out the conflict
Of "the times that tried men's souls."

We are athletes in th' arena:
Round us rising, tier on tier,
Shadowy legions of the Fathers,
"Clouds of witnesses," appear.
And they cheer the vigorous onset
With a proud and glad acclaim,
But for him who shirks his duty
Tears have they of wrath and shame.

Listen! for the deathless voices
Of that Century-distant day
Shape themselves to one clear echo,
Ringing out above the fray,—
"Sons! be worthy of the Fathers!
They were men who dared to stake
Life and fortune and fair honor
For their periled freedom's sake.

"Dare be loyal unto duty;
Barter not your soul for gain;
Trade not principle for party;
Seek the highest truth t' attain.
While to truth you are but faithful
Shun not e'en alone to stand;
One, with God, shall still be victor,
And th' Omnipotent command.

"When you've fought the human battle,—
Given to every one his right,—
There shall come an end of struggle,
And the darkness shall be light.
Clang of arms, and strife of brothers,
And the flow of blood shall cease;
Swords be beaten into plow-shares,
And the weary earth have peace."

(Solo sung by Mr. H. C. BARNABEE.)

Not martial pomp, nor man's best might,
Is aught, Great God, away from thee;
Thine arm is Power! Thy throne is Light!
Thy sceptre sweeps Eternity!

Treading the steps our fathers trod,
We, at Thine altar, craving bend,
For Thou, our God, our fathers' God,
Alone canst succor and defend.

Ages have past; Republics born
Have lived their brief and fevered day,
And, like the dew of early morn,
Hath glittered, trembled, passed away.

Yet Hope still lingers o'er their tomb,
And bids our spirits plead with Thee,
That Thou our land mayst shield from doom,
And hold her onward, One, and Free!

Not by our power, O God! nor might,
But by Thy Spirit must we live;
Blaze on our path in Truth, and Light,
And Freedom — Peace, through Union give.

So may we trust, while ages roll,
And Thrones and factions melt away,
That Thou, O God, of Hope the Soul,
Mayst be our Light and Guide for aye!

ODE.

Words by Charles W. Stevens. Music by Howard M. Dow.

Hark! what mean those notes of music
Breaking on the morning air?
'T is the welcome summons bidding
Comrades to the ranks repair.
June has come with buds and flowers,
"Apple-blossoms" deck the trees,
Up, then, Ancients, grasp your sabres!
Fling your banners to the breeze!

Though from far, where cross and crescent
Glisten on the brow of night,
Where the beauteous Bosphorus rolling,
Laves its shores with liquid light,
Comes the din and roar of battle,
Neighing troop and sabre's flash,
Roll of drum and blast of bugle,
Angry charge and deadly clash, —

Peace vouchsafes to us its blessing,
Unity returns again;
Oak and Olive, Pine, Palmetto,
Bend to catch the glad refrain.
Waft, ye North and Southern breezes,
Spread the joyful news around, —
To the tread of martial footsteps
Halls of State no more resound.

May we, striving in the future,
Fix our aim of duty high,
Press to noble, grand endeavor,
And our brightest hopes outvie.
Let us grasp with might eternal,
Hold as with a hand of steel,
Priceless pearl, — a Nation's oneness,
Choicest gift, — our Country's weal.

By our cruel scars and scourgings,
By our trials and our tears,
By the lessons victory taught us,
And the triumph of the years,
Let us, God and Heaven invoking,
Faith our sword and works our shield,
Fight 'gainst every wrong and error
Till the foes of virtue yield.

Firm may she ever stand,

By thy great might!

2.

For her our prayer shall rise
To God, above the skies;

Guarding with watchful eye,
To thee aloud we cry,
God save the State!

DRILL MEETINGS.

In accordance with a vote of the Company the Commander designates Thursday, Sept. 20th, Wednesday, 26th, and Friday, 28th, at 8 o'clock, P. M., at the Armory, for drill in Upton's Tactics.

The large number who have already attended the drills at the close of the business meetings is an assurance of the interest of our members in the success of the movement for greater efficiency in military discipline and the school of the soldier.

It is earnestly requested that all who intend to parade on the coming Fall Field Day will avail themselves of the opportunity offered by these meetings to perfect themselves to a certain extent in the tactics by which the command will be manœuvred on that occasion.

Sergeants of companies are especially requested to be present and assist in teaching their companies as well as to familiarize themselves with the new drill.

A few hours given to this important matter will produce results of which the Company will be proud in the future.

The Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company, desirous of preserving for future generations some of the many valuable Military Relics which are to be found in nearly every family whose ancestry dates back to the revolutionary war, have undertaken the formation of a Military Museum and Library at their Armory. And they respectfully solicit the custody of such relics as can be well authenticated as having historical records worthy of preservation.

They will receive such mementos of the valor of our armies, navies, or of individuals as may be donated to them for the above purpose, carefully recording the history of each, in a manner best calculated to preserve the many incidents of heroism which would otherwise be lost to futurity. Those having relics which they regard as too sacred to be allowed to pass absolutely from the family ownership may deposit them as a loan, to be cared for and preserved the same as if the ownership was vested in the Company.

Especially do we solicit the donation or loan of arms, medals, trophies, commissions, warrants, military orders, &c., &c., which have descended from former members of this company, while the same matter pertaining to any epoch in the history of our country will be welcome.

For the Library, ancient and modern military books, histories, documents treating of military matters, reports, letters from eminent military or naval officers concerning battles, &c., &c., are solicited: these will be duly arranged and catalogued, and the whole open to inspection on application to the Armorer.

Will the person receiving this circular kindly take an interest therein for the benefit of those who are to succeed us. A little effort now will supply and preserve what a few years hence would be invaluable to the historian, or military student.

READING OF SCRIPTURES.

ODE.

WRITTEN BY REV. M. J. SAVAGE. MUSIC BY HOWARD M. DOW.

I.

No more the death bolts whistle
Through the dun and stifled air;
No more above the carnage
Shrieks the cry of wild despair.
The shouting now is quiet;
And for bullets there is grain;
The daisy greets the morning
Where were mangled heaps of slain.

II.

The drum was once a terror,
And the blue coat spoke of death;
Wives, mothers, heard the marching
With dim eyes and bated breath.
But now the bright flag flutters
Stainless o'er the fair array;
And through streets of happy faces
Soldiers march on holiday.

III.

But, men! the war's not over
Though the cannon thunders cease;
Wrongs still remain unconquered,
Battles must be fought in peace.
Crime musters still her squadrons;
Ignorance leads her array;
Want lifts her ragged banner;
Truth not yet has won the day.

IV.

In stores, and by your firesides;
In the church, and in the school;
In th' assemblies of the nation
Right not yet has perfect rule.
Arm, then, with light and honor,
And strike bravely where ye can!
The war will not be over
Till has come The Perfect Man.

ANTHEM. "Remember Now Thy Creator."

MUSIC BY HOWARD M. DOW.

"Remember now thy Creator in the days of thy youth, while the evil days come not, nor the years draw nigh, when thou shalt say, I have no pleasure in them; while the sun, or the light, or the moon, or the stars, be not darkened, nor the clouds return after the rain: in the day when the keepers of the house shall tremble, and the strong men shall bow themselves, and the grinders cease because they are few, and those that look out of the windows be darkened. And the doors shall be shut in the streets, when the sound of the grinding is low, and he shall rise up at the voice of the bird, and all the daughters of music shall be brought low; also when they shall be afraid of that which is high, and fears shall be in the way, and the almond-tree shall flourish, and the grasshopper shall be a burden, and desire shall fail: because man goeth to his long home, and the mourners go about the streets: or ever the silver cord be loosed, or the golden bowl be broken, or the pitcher be broken at the fountain, or the wheel broken at the cistern. Then shall the dust return to the earth as it was: and the spirit shall return unto God who gave it." Amen.

SERMON.

REV. E. A. HORTON.

HYMN.

I.

Gone are those great and good
Who here, in peril, stood
And raised their hymn.
Peace to the reverend dead!
The light that on their head
The passing years have shed,
Shall ne'er grow dim.

II.

Ye temples, that to God
Rise where our fathers trod,
Guard well your trust,—
The faith that dared the sea,
The truth that made them free,
Their cherished purity,
Their garnered dust.

III.

Thou high and holy One,
Whose care for sire and son
All nature fills,—
While day shall break and close,
While night her crescent shows,
O let thy light repose
On these our hills.
